School Goals 2011-2012

Religion: To cultivate the communal aspect of our faith lives. Teachers will participate in weekly faith sharing, hold one another accountable for our attitudes, and practice random acts of kindness towards one another. Students will be assigned prayer partners both in the homeroom and in the larger school community, and on a routine basis prayer partners will be involved in activities together.

Academic: Teachers will strive to construct and assign meaningful homework assignments. Parents will support and assist their children in the completion of those assignments. Students will be responsible for completing the assignments on time, neatly and thoroughly.

Technology: To continue our work on Digital Citizenship by establishing gmail email accounts for grades 5-8, in order to use the features of googledocs. The teachers participating in the PLP Cohort will continue to instruct and model cutting edge trends in technology.

Service: To have the current service opportunities outlined ahead of time by identifying the project, establishing a time frame, defining who participates, and defining the purpose and implementation as it relates to our Catholic Identity.
